The Boston journals notice "more life in general business circles there," while the Philadelphia Ledger chronicles a "steady improvement in most branches." Baltimore records a "very involving a loss of at least seventy-five thousand dollars.

By the time the fire department were active business, especially in coffee, at advancing prices," with a confident feelready for action the distillery building was completely rapped in flames, their efforts were therefore directed toward ing among the merchants generally, who are persuaded now that "the year's busimess will wind up more prosperously than was expected a short time since." Looking westward, we find at Cincinnatia more active demand for money, showing a freer commercial movement in that quarter, but at Cincinnatia destroyed. Next to this was a large time of the same and the distillery consists and destroyed. Next to this was a large to the firms of t ment in that quarter, but at Chicago things are less animated, owing to the persistency, or alleged persistency, of the farmers in withholding their grain from the market, in the expectation of better prices. For several days past rumors have been current in Brooklyn that a new Congregational Council was about to be called, with the avowed purpose of expelling Mr. BEECHER from the ministry. It is believed, however, that the desire for the Council is confined to a few persons. Dr. Storrs, in a card to the Tribune, explicitly denies any participation in such a movement, as does also DR. THE Independent voters of this county should see to it that the admirable ticket presented by the late Republican Convention for the Legislature should be triumph antly elected. The Ring is evidently alarmed, and now is the time to strike the blow. We are creditably informed that the Register exhibits a decided coolness towards one of the Democratic candidates because he objects to HENRY S WALKER for the U. S. Benste. We are justified, therefore, in inferring that this man'WALKER is on the slate for the Senate. For the sake of public morality, and the fair fame of our young State, the unblushing effrontery of the P. P. and his associates should receive such a decided rebuke from the hands of the people at the October election, that they will hang their heads in shame. Let all honest mer come out from the vile crew that have oppressed and robbed our State ever since they have been entrusted with power.

Storrs delivered an eloquent sermon in Centre Church before a very large audience, the discourse being chiefly in reply to the latest positions taken by scientists, especially Tyndall. It was a masterly and most com prehensive review of the existence of the personal God. The key-note being that science in searching for God uses the wrong instruments. When a scientific man reaches his ulmost height by the aid of physical analysis and by metaphysical speculation he reaches out still further. He can never know how far or how near God is or what he is unless he looks through a lense of love and his own high-
